NOTES

HUD requires that each CoC set a deadline for individual agencies to submit projects to the CoC that is at least 30 days prior to the application deadline. The application deadline is October 20th, so the last day on which projects can be submitted to the CoC is September 20th.

Similarly, all projects must be notified as to whether their projects were accepted and ranked on the CoC's priority listing no later than 15 days before October 20th, i.e., by October 5th. Because October 5th is the Jewish holiday of Yom Kippur, the competition is not available to ensure the announcement goes out on that day, so the announcement will be made one day early, on October 4th.

Although the CoC's application deadline is not until October 20th, it is wise to submit one day early to avoid technical difficulties that sometimes arise as many CoCs all try to use HUD's web portal on the same day. Thus, the CoC will plan to submit its collaborative application to HUD on October 19th.
